A regional emergency response/homeland security training and exercise program is critical to the Bay Area

“POETE” (Planning, Organization, Equipment, Training, and Exercise) = FEMA requirement

Bay Area UASI regional stakeholders need and want:

- A robust, multi-disciplinary regional exercise to ensure readiness to respond to a disaster with regional impact
- A regional training program which saves the region money due to economy of scale

The Bay Area UASI will fund another provider per direction from our Approval Authority if Alameda County ceases to lead these initiatives.

Total annual UASI funding = $4.9M

- Urban Shield = $1.7M
- Training Courses = $1.7M
- Staffing = $1.5M

UASI funding allocated to Alameda County for the regional training and exercise program may only be used for these purposes and is non transferable to other uses.
